Missouri's Gift to Music

Join us for a FREE Concert!

Sunday, August 14

6:00 pm (note earlier start time)

The third concert of the summer series by the Manchester Community Band features works representing the creative output of Missourians who put pen to paper and gave us wonderful music! Scott Joplin turned out some of the most recognizable songs of the ragtime era during his time in St. Louis, notably "The Entertainer", which was used as the theme in the movie, "The Sting". Claude T. Smith gained widespread notice not only for compositions like "Emperata Overture", but also for composing works for the armed forces bands and the National Air and Space Museum in Washington. The music of David Holsinger, John Cheetham, and Ron Sikes is likewise known for its quality and its appeal to audiences. This program spotlights the great music created for us by Missouri's composers!
